

Reflection: Divine Mercy

The greatest gift of Divine Mercy was God's gift of his son, Jesus Christ. The Father loved us so much that his only begotten son that whoever believe in him might not perish but have eternal life.

(John 3:16)

Saint Paul in his letter to The Colossians urges us to put to death whatever in your nature is rooted on Earth, and to stop lying to one another. What is in your past is forgotten by God and we are made whiter than snow. I am comforted by this Ocean of Mercy which flows from the Heart of Jesus, and so unworthy of it. He lifts me up minute by minute and assures me that his love is the only truth I will ever need.

What is in the past is forgotten by God, by his Great Ocean of Mercy, however man is not so forgiving, and seems to have forgotten their own baptismal promises and how they have been forgiven by God and washed clean.

Saint Paul assure us that if we clothe ourselves in love than everything else will be bound together meekness, kindness humility and patience. Saint Augustine says that we who stand fast in the Lord are a Holy seed, a new colony of bees and the very flower of our ministry and the fruit of our toil. How are we showing our community Divine Mercy? How can we improve on it? Have you shown the Love and Mercy of Christ?

As for myself, Love took me out of nothing, took me out of the darkness that was my life. Love rescued me.
